OUT ON THE LIMB
with George Vierhus

WARNINGS of the dangers that lurk on the highways, especially during the "long" holidays, have become so commonplace that many people apparently have become immune to them.

The grim statistics that are traditionally issued by the National Safety Council prior to a holiday about the anticipated traffic fatalities should make all of us pretty squeamish about getting on the roads.

But most of us shrug off the figures "secure" in the knowledge that the statistics don't apply to us. It's always the other guy who will be the statistic, we reassure ourselves.

Although an avid reader of the news releases predicting the number of traffic fatalities that occur over a holiday, we have long been concerned whether that is the proper approach to use.

The American people, athletically and in so many other ways, have been so immersed in the philosophy of record-setting, whether it is in baseball, swimming, track or economics, that breaking existing records is almost a way of life.

So thus when the figures released after a holiday show that the fatalities on the highway have again exceeded all previous records and have even surpassed the predictions, the record-breaking concept has been maintained.

The records and predictions have not deterred people to any appreciable degree traveling on the highways during holidays and the longer the holiday, the heavier the traffic.

Apparently we must be on the go and a holiday is a good time to go.

We are not presenting any solution to the problem or can we offer any approach that is any better than the "statistic" one that is now used to emphasize the dangers.

And we wish we could say that it was solely because of the warnings that we don't travel the highways on the "long" holidays or weekends.

But that would not be true.

IT JUST SO happens that this occupation in which we are in doesn't allow us to take advantage of holidays, as much as we would like, unless the calendar really cooperates. And, for the record, 1967 is not one of the "cooperative" years.

If you noticed a tinge of bitterness on our part in this discussion about holiday traveling, etc. you are right.

That's just our way of telling you that the staff worked on Independence Day.

So we didin't get a chance to be a "statistic".

But what else is new?

After 16 years of civic service

Merchants drop Campbell Stamps

A unique Campbell institution, the Campbell Merchants Stamp Association, with a proud 16-year record of achievement in the stimulation of local business and in civic improvement enterprises, is bowing out.

The announcement of the demise of the stamp association which has been made by Bill Oltmann, local accountant and manager of the association, was greeted with a touch of sadness by many of the "old-timers" who recall with nostalgia its enthusiasm and activity on the local business front during the past one and one half decades.

In each establishment of the 11 remaining members of the once flourishing merchants association, a notice has been posted explaining to "savers of Campbell Stamps" that the issuance of the Campbell Stamps has been discontinued and outlining the methods of redemption.

REDEMPTION

The announcement specifies that all stamps will be redeemed in merchandise, with a full book for $3 in trade or 10-cents a page for partially filled books.

The stamps can be redeemed in cash with a $2.10 value for a full book or 7 1/2-cents per page for partially-filled books. The stamps can be redeemed at any of the 11 places of business listed.

The notice also states that the stamp association is going out of business "due to circumstances beyond the control."

UNEVEN BATTLE

"Circumstances beyond control" means those close to the scene maintain, that dwindling membership plus current restrictions levied on the smaller stamp companies at the state level had made the struggle locally a pretty uneven affair.

The Campbell Merchants Stamp Association is in an excellent financial condition, Oltmann points out, and the redemptions will be readily made.

The decision to discontinue was made because the uneven battle forced on local stamp operations has become too much of a load to carry, officials

Citizens committee ends one job, tackles another

JOB WELL DONE--Mayor Ed Rogers in the two pictures above congratulates two members of the 64-member Citizens Advisory Committee upon completion of their study and recommendation for the city's capital improvement program to be financed by a $3.2 million bond issue.

The committee members have been reappointed to the bond drive committee. The election is scheduled for Oct. 24.

In the top photo, Don Hebard, chairman of the citizens committee, receives a handshake and certificate of commendation from Rogers. In the lower photo, Oleg Lubeckis, receives the mayor's commendation.

With only slight modifications, the City Council adopted the citizens' recommendation for the $3.2 million capital improvement program which earmarks $850,000 for Rincon Park expansion, including a community center building.

A combined police and city administration building calls for $850,000 with streets, traffic and street lights $1,045,000.

The program also lists $299,000 for fire station #2 and $40,000 land acquisition for two more stations.

The program includes $25,000 for the city's share in building a pedestrian overpass over San Tomas Expressway at Rincon and $130,000 for the city's corporation yard.

It is expected that the 64-member Citizens Advisory Committee which includes members from every section of the town, will reorganize and expand its membership for the bond campaign.

Council to learn about libraries

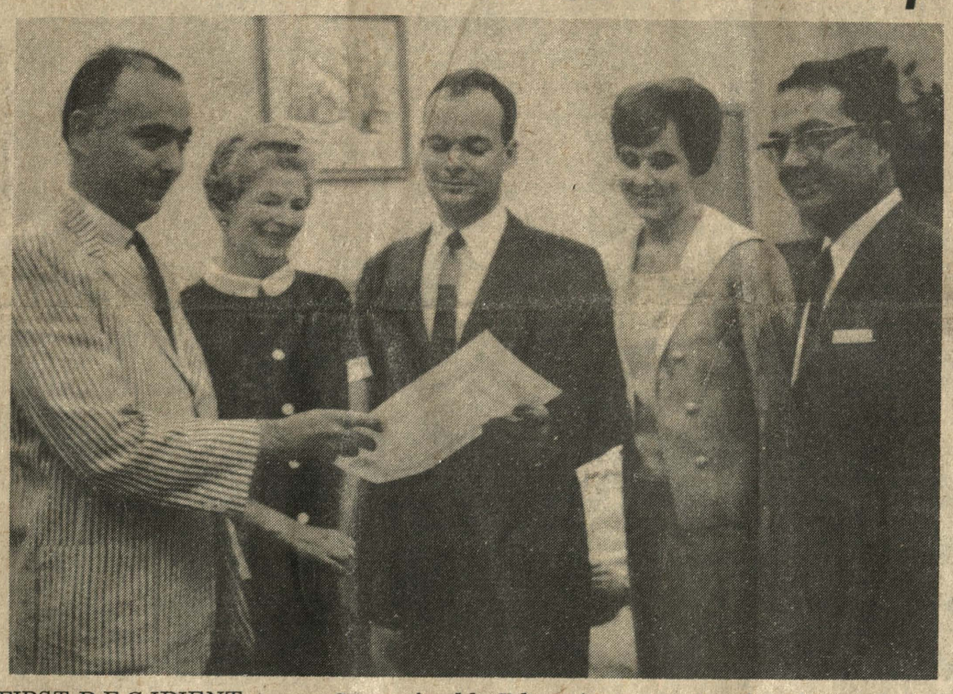
Campbell city councilmen will receive the latest report on developments of the library situation as it affects the city at the council meeting next Monday, July 10.

Dick Hogan, planning director, will probably fill-in the councilmen on the details, as City Manager Bob Stephens is scheduled to be on vacation. The city is attempting to work out a firm agreement with the county as to future plans for a new library building. The county library system, which serves Campbell, is financed by a 21-cent special library tax above the general county rate.

Campbell has been exploring the possibility of financing a library by the bond issue to be paid back on a lease-arrangement with the county library district.

The council is also expected to get a report on the assessed valuation figures just released by the county assessor's office which shows that Campbell's valuation is now $39,463,110 (without utilities), an increase of 5.15% over last year.

Planners award Tomlinson Scholarship



FIRST RECIPIENT--Mitchell Cushman, a graduate student in city and regional planning at University of Southern California, on Monday night was awarded the first $500 Jim Tomlinson Memorial Scholarship by the Campbell Planning Commission.

The scholarship was established in memory of the late James Tomlinson who served on the Planning Commission from its inception in 1952 until his death last year.

Campbell shows slight gain in retail sales in first quarter over last year

By George Vierhus

Retail sales in Campbell during the first quarter this year showed an increase over the same period last year... But just barely.

According to the report issued by the State Board of Equalization, the total taxable retail sales for the first quarter in 1967 in Campbell came to $9,649,000, compared to $9,643,000 in 1966 for a gain of $6,000.

The report concludes that the average Californian during the first quarter this year apparently spent less for taxable goods and saved more during the first three months of the year, for the sales gain from a year ago was only two per cent, the smallest first quarter increase since 1961.

GOOD RECORD

That Campbell managed to show any increase, slight as it was, was quite an achievement, civic leaders point out, for a good portion of Campbell's taxable sales stem from building materials.

That category showed a decrease of $251,000 in sales in the first three months of 1967 compared to the same period in 1966.

In 1967 building material sales equalled $1,530,000. In 1966 it was $1,781,000, indicating how the "tight money" situation affected the local econmic situation.

HOME FURNISHINGS

But increases in the home furnishings sales category (Bruener's etc.) during the first period of $142,000; in the food division of $102,000 and, surprisingly, in the "eating and drinking places" of $198,000 more than offset the decreases in building materials.

Actually the only three categories that showed decreases in sales of those listed in the Board of Equalization report were, building materials ($251,000); drug stores, ($26,000); and the catch-all listing "all other outlets", ($438,000).

This "all other" group showed an increase of 35 in the number of outlets but their total sales dropped sharply.

FISCAL PROBLEM

The report, coming at the time when City Hall people are concerned with putting together the next year's budget for the city and hoping that estimates of the sales tax income for the city have been low, is being studied intently in an attempt to guage the year a little better.

The taxable sales picture has a definite bearing on the city's finances, as the city collects one per cent of the sales tax on the sales.

Although it was pointed out that both the first and second quarters of this year belong to the fiscal year just closed, obviously the report gives an indication of what could be in store, fiscally speaking, for the balance of the year.

GOOD AND BAD

Both good and bad features in the report were emphasized. There have been optimistic indications that construction, in a dormant state for some time now, may be "opening up". Thus the "building material" category, long a bulwark along with "home furnishings" in bolstering this city's sales tax picture, might reflect a more healthy situation during the next months.

Campbell is the only city in the county listed in the report without an auto agency. This category in all the other cities is the leader in total sales and thus the biggest source of sales tax income.

City Planners deny billiards sign

Campbell Planning Commission on Monday night denied the application of Frank O. Whitham, of Campbell Billiards, at 266 E Campbell Ave., for a rotating roof sign for his establishment.

The action on the sign was on an appeal from the ruling of Dick Hogan, planning director, which turned down the request of Whitham. Under the new city ordinance, an applicant has the right of appeal from a staff ruling sign matters.

The proposed 6'x'6 sign would be double-faced and mounted on the roof and would include "enjoy Pepsi" on it as well as Campbell Billiards.

The commission approved the application for remodeling submitted by Bob Raffanti of the building formerly occupied by Benson's Campbell Cleaners at 260 E. Campbell Ave. and also for the plans for the proposed nursery school at 1063 Fewtrell Ave. At the last meeting the commission okayed a use permit for the school.

The commission also continued action on the request of Phillips Petroleum for an additional pump island at the service station at Hamilton and Winchester and reviewed the grading plan for the Leep subdivision which borders on the Saratoga city limits.

The grading plan was a requirement in the original approval of the subdivision to satisfy residents of Saratoga "across the creek" who had protested various phases of the tract from the beginning.

The commission also acted on a "referral" from the City Council on plans for Hamilton-Llewellyn.

PLEADS CASE--Lowell Grattan, local developer, (above) appeared before the Planning Commission on Monday night to request that a condition in approval of plans for development of property on Hamilton at Llewllyn be modified. The condition specifies that a service station cannot be started before the other commercial buildings in the proposal.

Editorial

It's OUR community

One of the stipulations set by the City Council when the Citizens Advisory Committee was formed was that only 25% of the committee membership could be non-residents.

The Citizens Advisory Committee comprised of 64 members did an outstanding job in the study and recommendation of a six-year capital improvement program.

With only slight modifications the City Council adopted the citizens' recommendation and has called for a $3.2 million bond election in October to finance the program.

The committee has now been reappointed to the bond campaign unit and we expect to see the same enthusiasm and the same dedication of the members as they drive to attain their next objective.

We were especially pleased with the residential qualification that was specified when the Citizens Advisory Committee was formed, for we have long maintained that "where one lives" is even more important than "where one works".

Not for one moment do we detract from the sincere devotion and the tremendous assistance over the years that has been given this community by those who believe in Campbell, who have investments here but who live elsewhere.

Without their efforts, our community would have faltered.

But where one hangs ones hat when the day's work is done has an impact all its own that often sub-consciously affects the drive of an individual in building a better community.

Over the years, through these columns, we have repeatedly urged, for example, that employees of the city should live within the city limits.

This editorial policy of ours on many occasions in the past has been unpopular in some quarters. It has been maintained that a city employee should not be penalized by residential restrictions any more than should an employee in private industry.

It has also been argued that the city would be penalizing itself to have such a policy, for it could mean that a top-notch employee would not come here under such circumstances and it could also mean a financial hardship.

We readily concede that there is merit to those arguments, and especially was this true in the past. When we first put forth our policy, the population of this city was less than 10,000. Today the population exceeds 22,000.

Admittedly there are cases when a residential restriction would be impractical.

Yet we firmly and sincerely believe that department heads, members of the city advisory commissions and other key city personnel should live within the city limits.

We maintain also that as the drive for the bond issue reaches its peak, this will become increasingly apparent.

It's that same old story of "do as I say not as I do".

When this city was struggling in the lower population bracket, it could be argued, we suppose, that the manpower was limited in certain fields. Thus the city should get assistance from wherever it could.

But it would be a sad commentary on the world in general, and Campbell in particular, if it is suggested today that in a city of 22,000 there aren't enough qualified people to man the city's oars.

That is why we were particularly pleased that the City Council specified in the formation of the Citizens Advisory Committee that only 25% of the members should be non-residents. As it turned out, less than 10% fell into that category.

The Citizens Advisory Committee, with members representing every section of the community, was extremely valuable in other outstanding ways which will make for a stronger community as time goes on:

It created community spirit and interest among people who had not previously shown their interest in any outward manner.

It tapped a "reserve" of intelligent manpower which will prove invaluable in any future civic activity.

It made it "our city" instead of "their city" and it was what "we" will do and not what "they" are doing.

It developed determined leadership.

It developed goals and objectives to make a better city but at the same time the practical aspect to the situation was never lost.

We believe this is concrete evidence that our community has now come of age. Where we go from here will depend on the citizens.

The Citizens Advisory Committee, by its very nature, has touched the very roots of this community, the people themselves.

And, after all, what is our community but the people?

holders of drivers' licenses to check the expiration dates for licenses expire on one's birthday.

Some of you may have overlooked that fact.

It was also emphasized that, if a driver ran over the date, a written test and a driver's exam would have to be taken.

And the driver, of course, would have been running around without a valid license.

It was noted also that licenses can be renewed six months or less before the expiration date.

That news release, the motor vehicle department people should be happy to learn, resulted in one real convert.

Inasmuch as we have less than six months to go until we age another year officially, we plan to trot down and get the license thing over with as painlessly as possible.

That is, as soon as we bone up on a couple of points we note we would have missed on the exam Fran took a few weeks ago.

HOBBIES of individuals can be mighty far-ranging and far-reaching we have learned from chatting with people about what they do in their "spare time".

Actually "hobby" is probably not the proper way to describe some of the activities indulged in by people in their off-hours for recreational, physical, educational or for mere relaxing purposes.

F'instance, golf to us, especially the way we play it, could be considered a hobby. But to others, who seem to know what they are doing, golf could be rated higher than a mere "hobby".

But our rather far-fetched point is that hobbies range far and wide afield.

FOR EXAMPLE, take our own office.

Brent Ulrich, the top brass in the back shop, spends his spare time with horses and Chet Clever, Fran's husband, also is horse-conscious, while our free-lancer Sally Howe raises dogs.

Don Hebard, Grace's spouse, is an El Toro sail boat enthusiast...

And, boating, by the way has really become a popular off-duty pastime, as a look at the crowded dams on weekends will prove. And so it goes.

But to Don Kennedy, local BofA manager, must go the nod for the most relaxing recreational activity that our cursory research has uncovered so far.

That statement, of course, is based on Don's description of his hobby. We haven't tried it yet.

Don reports that he has taken up gliding as a recreational activity.

His glowing accounts of soaring off into space with no distraction from engine noise or fumes, made our description of parring a hole on the golf course sound pretty prosaic.

There are others around, like Roger Kisner, local dentist, who also sail through the air in their spare time.

But they have engines attached to their planes. There's a difference.

We haven't run across a local person yet whose hobby is sky diving, (parachute jumping).

But we bet we will hear about one before next week.

Anyway we have made our point.

Hobbies are far-ranging...and the sky seems to be the limit.

emphasize.

Officials of the Campbell association point with pride to the record made in Campbell by the association in the past 16 years.

Charles De La Roche of the Winchester Hardware is the current president of the organization.

The original purpose of the organization was pointed out by L.E. (Bill) Means on the 15th anniversary. It was to organize the merchants to keep local money in the area, which is still a good idea, Means emphasized.

During the 16 years, the association supported many community services, including the sponsorship of Little League teams, supporting local celebrations and assisting in the Christmas street decoration programs.

The City of Campbell and the Campbell Merchants Stamp Association have actually a common heritage. They started on the same time.

A peak into the past issues of The Press, reveal that the city and the association came into being in the same month, March, 1952.

Progressive citizens of the community worked together during the pre-formation periods in establishing both the city and the association.

CITY FORMS

The citizens of Campbell on March 11, 1952 by the close vote of 686 to 633 voted to incorporate. Campbell then had a population of 7,000.

On March 27, 1952, with a big "splash", after months of intensive study, research and preparation, the first Campbell trading stamps were issued.

In a full page ad in The Press announcing "Good News for Thrifty Shoppers", the stamps went into effect with 31 merchants offering them.

But, in contrast to the city, the stamp association in bowing out of the local picture, currently has only 11 members and the city has grown to 22,000 with almost 100 on the payroll and a budget of more than $1 million.

Only two of the original directors of the Campbell Merchants Stamp Association, Means, the first president, and Dobie Jeffers, are still active in the association today. And Means originally represented Clark's Drugs, for the Campbell Drugs, his store today, was not established until 1956. Clark's continued as a member until it went out of existence in 1965

COUNCIL, TOO

None from the original city council, elected in 1952, are now living in Campbell. Of the original five men elected, Joseph V. Gomes and Jim Arends are deceased, and the other three, Dr. Frederick Snyder, Richard R. Morton and Joe Dahl now live in other communities.

An examination of the roster of the 31 merchants who made up the charter list of the Campbell Merchants Stamp Association also vividly shows how the business community has changed in the intervening years.

Of the 11 participating firms today, only seven of them were on the list when the association began operating in 1952; Campbell Hardware, Campbell Music Center; Golden Rule; Vince's Guarantee Shoes; Winchester Hardware and Rachel's (now Louanna) Dress Shop.

The officers and directors in March, 1952, included, in addition to Means and Jeffers; Harold Estensen Frank Accardi, Robert Seligson, Cel Gerevas.

A cursory check of the 31 business firms also show that 15 of them are no longer in existence.

CAMPBELL AVE.

Another example of changing times, as far as "downtown Campbell Ave." is concerned, is revealed in the fact that 22 of the 31 members in March, 1952, had Campbell Avenue addresses.

Today, of the 11 members now active, nine of them have Campbell avenue addresses, with Campbell Drugs and Winchester Hardware, the only two off what used to be the "main drag".

LIST

The list of the original 31 merchants included: Accardi's, 207 E. Campbell: Bernardi's Gas Station, 482 E. Campbell; Botts Garage, 11 S. Central: Bud's Texaco, 98 S. Winchester; Cambrian Garage, 630 SJ-LG Road; Campbell Cleaners; 180 E. Campbell; Campbell Furniture, 249 E. Campbell; Campbell Hardware, 255 E. Campbell; Campbell Music Center, 381 E. Campbell; Campbell Publishing, 21 Dillon; Campbell Sport Shop, 236 E. Campbell; Campbell Variety, 286 E. Campbell; Campbell Washette, 361 E. Campbell; Vince's Guarantee Shoe Store, 221 E. Campbell; Horace's Grocery, 263 E. Campbell; House of Carpets, 212 E. Campbell; James Rare Plant Nursery, 605 SJ-LG Road; Jeffers Mens Wear, 244 E. Campbell; Lico's Market, 295 E. Campbell; Modern Shoe Repair, 211-A E. Campbell; McConnell & Schoenberger Shell Station, Central at Campbell; Nelson's Grain, 201 E. Campbell; Orchard City Appliance, 340 N. Central; Rachel's Women's Wear, 294 E. Campbell; TnT Variety, 24 E. Campbell; Western Gravel, Kennedy at Railway; Winchester Hardware, 87 S. Winchester; Campbell Used Furniture, 95 E. Campbell.

Gatos with total sales of $10,614,000 for the first quarter in 1967 compared to $10,201,000 in 1966, an increase of $413,000 showed $6,063,000 attributed to the 14 auto dealers listed. This was an increase in this category of $285,000 over the same period in 1966, in spite of decrease on a statewide basis.

Los Gatos was ahead of Campbell by almost $1 million in total sales for the first period of 1967 ($10,614,000 to $9,649,000). But in a number of categories, in addition to "home furnishings" and "building materials", Campbell was ahead of its neighbor.

For example, each city has 20 outlets listed under "food". Campbell's total sales under "food" came to $902,000 while Los Gatos showed $800,000.

In Campbell there are 37 "eating and drinking places" listed compared to 35 in Los Gatos. The Campbell spots showed $694,000 in total sales while in Los Gatos the total was $593,000.

Incidentally the report also lists the same number of packaged liquor stores in both cities (7). But Los Gatos residents apparently drink a little more, $297,000 in sales in Los Gatos to $254,000 in Campbell.

And, Campbell, (if you did't know it already) has six more service stations than Los Gatos, 38 to 32. The Campbell stations did $260,000 in total sales (excluding gasoline) to $154,000 for Los Gatos.

Another twist was in the "other" miscellaneous retail stores. Los Gatos showed 45 in this division and Campbell only 25. But the Campbell stores did $464,000 in business compared to $438,000 in Los Gatos.

COUNTY LEADS

According to the Board of Equalization report, Santa Clara County led every major county in the state with an overall 11 per cent sales gain and 27 of the 58 counties recorded increases.

The report also emphasized that the total sales figures excluded about $2 billion in the state for exempted food, gasoline and prescription drugs.

TWO DOWN

Although Campbell barely showed an increase ($6,000) for the first quarter in 1967 compared to the same period in 1966, there were two cities (Gilroy and Los Altos) of the 10 cities in the county listed that showed a decrease.

Gilroy dropped $277,000 from $4,617,000 in 1966 to $4,340,000 in 1967, and Los Altos, $82,000, from $6,767,000 to $6,685,000.

Cupertino went from $5,301,000 to $5,993,000; Los Gatos from $10,201,000 to $10,614,000; Palo Alto from $39,397,000; to $42,696,000; San Jose from $144,685,000 to $145,076,000; Mountain View from $27,627,000 to $33,434,000; Santa Clara from $33,362,000 to $38,997,000; Sunnyvale from $26,826,000 to $28,744,000.

Both city and Chamber of Commerce officials after reviewing the report came to the same conclusion as they had since reports were first issued: Without an auto agency, Campbell is doing mighty fine in the sales tax situation. But, wow! What a help one or two car dealers in town would be!

Marilyn Drew is lovely summer bride

MRS. CHARLES R. ROBINSON

Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Richard Robinson, who were married recently at the First Methodist Church of Campbell, are making their first home in St. Petersburg, Virginia, near Fort Lee, where the bridegroom is stationed with the United States Army.

The bride is the former Marilyn Lorraine Drew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Drew, 780 Almarida Dr., Campbell. Sgt. Robinson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Galt, 942 S. Clover Ave., San Jose.

For her wedding, Marilyn was attired in a beautiful lace coat dress over shantung linen. It featured elbow length sleeves and a long flowing train. Her headpiece of matching lace secured her veil of imported illusion and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and carnations with satin streamers.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Michael Duval (Jeralee Drew) was the matron of honor. Miss Kathy Sue Robinson was the only bridesmaid. Both attendants wore white lace gowns over pink, and matching hats trimmed in pink satin. They carried pink carnations.

Kathleen Drew, youngest sister of the bride, was the flower girl. She made a quaint picture in her floor length white chiffon frock with pink cumberbund. Richard Drew, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

Jess Robinson served his brother as best man, and ushers were Don Robinson, also a brother, and Michael Duval. Approximately 100 guests attended the reception held at the home of the bride's parents. A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake was the center of the table, with pink and white floral decorations.

The bride is a graduate of Campbell High School and West Valley College. Sgt. Robinson is an alumna of Del Mar High School and West Valley College.

Social Side

Local actress has lead role in "Sound of Music"

The Saratoga Federated Drama Group will present the popular Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "The Sound of Music" opening Friday, July 7 at 8:30 p.m. in the Council Chambers, Fruitvale Ave. Saratoga. For ticket information call, 867-3455 or 356-3853. The show will run for six weekends with evening performances only.

In the lead role of Maria will be Joy Jones (Mrs. C. O.) 1238 Paula Drive, Campbell. Joy has lived in Campbell for seven years with her husband and three children, Jeff, Mark and Julie. This will be her fourth appearance with the drama group. She and Walter Bekowies who plays the part of Capt. von Trapp were also the leads in "South Pacific", an earlier production of the S. F. D. G.

Bekowies teaches in Rolling Hills Jr. High School in the CUSD and has been a popular soloist for choral programs, sacred oratorios and opera performances here in the Santa Clara Valley.

Susan Hopp will play the part of Brigitta--one of the seven von Trapp children. Her sister, Kathi, plays a postulant in the last act. Dr. Wayne Hopp, Campbell orthodontist, is the father of these girls.

Other key roles in the cast include Mrs. Katie Lavender as Elsa Schraeder, Frederick W. Hassett as Max Detweiler and Mrs. Cecile Maida as Mother Abbess.

TAKE LEAD ROLES--Mrs. Joy Jones of Campbell (with guitar) portrays the part of Marie in the Saratoga Federated Drama Group's presentation of "Sound of Music" opening Friday, July 7 in the Saratoga Council Chambers. Walter Bekowies, Rolling Hills High School teacher, has the part of Captain von Trapp. The Trapp children seated (left to right) are Julie Vachon, Linda Vachon, Lisa Prince, Steve Ploeser, Susan Hopp, Stephen Scott and in front, Sheila Savage.

Friends visit Mrs. Snyder

There was a lot of visiting going on last week at Beverly Manor Convalescent Hospital in Los Gatos. It was a surprise party for Mrs. Minnie Snyder who is recuperating there from a leg injury. It wasn't her birthday, just an occasion when her friends in the Garden Club could get together. It took a little special planning, but Mrs. Eleanor Vennum did it. They brought her a beautiful Lily of the Valley plant. In addition, there were all kinds of fresh flowers as well as some paper ones. Ten year old Jeff Griffin entertained the group with piano selections. He is the son of Mrs. Robert J. Griffin.

Mrs. Frank Stapleton, director of the Santa Clara County Valley District of California Garden Clubs was the organizer of the day.

Those attending included Mesdames Reginald Waldey, Ward Brannon, Gene Vennum, James Hartman, Clyde Adamson and Paul Brannon.

Our Town

By Grace Hebard

What are our local teenagers doing this summer? Besides going to the beach and acquiring a tan, are they doing anything else? Well, alot of them are working. Altho there are still many young people looking for jobs, thanks to our local merchants, many others have work. The restaurants, drug stores, service stations, swimming pools, department stores, business offices and private homes are employing our teenagers.

Still others are attending summer classes at West Valley College or local high schools. Others are studying music, or participating in a drama group. Many of the girls are sewing clothes for school, and boys are taking care of the gardens. They're a wonderful group, our Campbell teenagers!

There were two housewarming parties held last week-end for local couples. Newlyweds MR. AND MRS. DAN MORRIS (Sheri Garlick) of 3027 David Ave. were surprised with gifts and refreshments Sunday night when friends gathered to fete them...

THE GILBERT MUENTZ' who have moved to a larger home on Mossbrook Circle were given a housewarming by their former neighbors on Calado Ave. The festivities included a buffet and dancing....

WESTON CLARK, son of the FRED CLARKS of Campbell, has been awarded a scholarship for the second year to the University of California, Berkeley campus. He is a graduate of Campbell High School..

MARTHA HYDE, daughter of the HOMER HYDES, has been granted Homor granted Honors at Entrance to the University of Pacific in Stockton. She also graduated from Campbell High School..

FELICITATIONS to MR. AND MRS. Ray A. DUNCAN, 980 Ravenscourt, on the arrival of a daughter to be named BONNIE..... MRS. ADELE CHARLSON, supervisor of Homemaking Education in the Campbell High School District, is in Dallas, Texas, attending the 58th annual meeting of the American Home Economics Association.

Little CYNTHIA ANN is home at last. She is the first addition to the family of CLIFF AND CHRIS HARRINGTON who arrived a bit too early and had to spend the first few weeks of her life in an incubator at Good Samaritan Hospital. Dad is an employee of The Campbell Press composing department.

Playhouse to present dramas "under the stars"

The King Dodo Playhouse announces a summer schedule of plays "Under the Stars" at Azule Crossing in Saratoga. Because of a delay in the construction of the new Playhouse, the acting company will perform outdoors, 200 feet away from the site of the permanent theater.

Opening night will be July 14 and the comedies will play every Friday and Saturday night through the end of September. Curtain time is 8:40 p.m. For reservations and further information call 293-4130. Admission is $2.50

The Friday evening show is the whimsical "Harvey" by Mary Chase. "Any Wednesday" to be presented on Saturday evenings was a smash hit Broadway success. A special theater-dinner is available at Hardie's Coach House.

Summer theater begins season

LeRoy Del Carlo is again directing the Campbell Community Children's Theater, which is reopening July 15. Casting for five new plays is about to begin. Dancers, singers and instrumentalists are needed.

The first play to be presented will be "Masquerade at Morticia's". Any youngster interested in try-outs is asked to call Del Carlo at 379-1442. No experience is required.

Grange plans yearly picnic

State Master J. Blaine Quinn and Mrs. Quinn were honored guests at the pot-luck dinner preceding the regular meeting of Orchard City Grange. Also honored were State Deputy John Buck and Mrs. Buck and three candidates who received the third and fourth degrees. Feminine members of the degree team were attired in white formal gowns and wore red corsages. Mrs. Zelia Martin was captain of the team. Candidates receiving degrees were Beatrice Crell, Olive Russell and Ken Baker.

The H.E.C. chairman announced a picnic at Vasona Park as the place of their next meeting.

The Orchard City Grange will hold their regular yearly picnic on Sunday, July 9. Festivities will be from 12 to 5 p.m. and will be held at Billy Jones' Railroad on Daves Ave. in Los Gatos. Everyone attending should bring a wrapped white elephant gift for bingo games and plenty of food. All are invited to bring their children and grandchildren for the afternoon of fun and train rides. Brother Jones has graciously offered the use of his facilities for the day.

The next meeting of the Grange will be held on July 10. The H.E.C. of Orchard City will present the program.

Ladies! its time to get exhibits ready

Starting July 5 the women staff of the Santa Clara County Fair Home Economics Dept. will take up residence in the Pavilion Building from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. to receive entry blanks and exhibits, according to Mrs. Marie Campbell, Home Economics Director.

The division shows all phases of the modern woman and what she has accomplished in the home.

Monica Leite returns home

Monica Leite, who has been visiting here from Brazil at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Weslow, 98 N. Carlyn Ave., returned this week to her home in Rio de Janeiro.

She completed a semester of post-graduate studies at Notre Dame High School, San Jose, sponsored by the Youth for Understanding Exchange Student Program.

A delightful no-host luncheon was given in her honor at the Plumed Horse Restaurant in Saratoga. Those attending were Misses Beth Weslow, Kathy Slattery, Charlene Owen, Sue Kleinheinz, Chris Pimental, Barbara Mason, Ann Marie Mason, Ann Marie Jenvrin, Irma Perez, Nell Watson, Kathy Sucreta, Louise Cavallero, Kathy Peterson, Anita Speciale and Loretta Carbone.

Dessert followed at the Norbert Weslow home in Campbell.

Grass Roots

Pinpointing the most important aspect of gardening is not always an easy thing, but in California, where summer drought often lasts for months on end, watering has to be of first importance. Without it most plants will either go dormant or die. With too little, they sulk and may survive, but their performance is sub-par.

When you consider that most living things, including human beings, are mostly water, the importance of adequate supplies of moisture becomes more evident. In plants, it keeps the growth succulent and vigorous, enables roots to take up minerals and food from the soil. We can overwater, it's true, but only in heavy, poorly drained soils which become soggy is this a problem.

The California Association of Nurserymen suggests that underwatering is most common among beginning gardeners. Simply running the sprinkler for a few minutes every day does not insure that plants have plenty of water available to them. Frequent, light watering may not penetrate and encourage deep root systems. With plants such as azaleas, camellias and fuchsias, which have most of their roots near the surface this is not a problem, but most shrubs and trees are healthier with their roots down deep, where they can drink and stay healthy even during brief periods of neglect. Test your own watering effectiveness. Dig down a foot or two in a shrub border, or take a core from your lawn. If the moisture is deep you can congratulate yourself.

Feeding is next most important, and will insure that your soil is a favorable medium for plants to grow in. You may feed to encourage more growth this year or to insure more bloom next year. A few plants such as geraniums and bougainvillea and others flower more brightly when food is withheld, but most will benefit by regular feeding. Roses, fuchsias, and chrysanthemums are but three hungry beauties. Your lawn is another.

Third in importance is weeding. We weed to cut down competition. Weeds rob water and food from the plants and need to be kept in check. They are unsightly, too and have no place in the well-groomed garden.

OPAL J. WALKER

Final rites were held this week for Mrs. Opal J. Walker, who died suddenly in Flagstaff, Arizona, as she and her husband were returning from vacation. Mrs. Walker, 68, resided at 482 E. Central Ave. She had been a resident of the county for 26 years.

She was the wife of Mansel M. Walker, retired Permanente Cement Co. employee; mother of Warren C. Walker of San Jose, Carol S. Walker of Fresno, Merl D. Walker of San Jose, Mrs. Mildren M. Jordan of Campbell, Mrs. Lila F. Baker of San Jose, Mrs. Norma J. Brown of San Jose and Mrs. Jo Ann Cloutier of Campbell.

Funeral services were held at Calvary Temple Church, Campbell, under the direction of Campbell Memorial Chapel. Interment was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

Adam Clayton Powell's recent statement that Congress dealt more harshly with him than with Senator Dodd because he (Powell) is a Negro and Dodd is white, has been interpreted by some as another attempt by the former Harlem Congressman to use his race as a license for irresponsible action.

Unfortunately, many well-meaning individuals and groups have placed credence in Powell's charges that Congress employs a dual standard of justice based upon racism. For example, the National Council of Churches recently wrote: "..the disparate recommendations of the two investigating committees do raise serious doubts that justice has been realized...One is denied his seat in Congress during the investigation, while the other retains his. One is stripped of his chairmanship before investigation, the other remains chairman of three sub-committees while under investigation...One was found to have misused public funds, for which the investigating committee proposed that he be fined $40,000, stripped permanently of his seniority and publicly rebuked;...The other was found to have misused both public and campaign funds...It was not proposed that he be fined or compelled to make restitution of the misused funds. It was not proposed that he lose seniority or his subcommittee chairmanships...".

The Constitution clearly states that each House shall be the judge of its own membership. It is, therefore, unfair to taint the House with the senatorial timidity displayed in the punishment of Senator Dodd or conversely to credit the Senate with more compassion than the House. Perhaps the Senate should have been tougher on Dodd, but because it wasn't, I don't believe the House should be accused of racial bias.

Powell was not "fined" $40,000 but was asked to make restitution of public funds he misappropriated. Though the public funds in the Dodd case were much less, he nevertheless should have been required to return them. But because the Senate did not choose this course is no justification for branding the House as a band of racists.

Powell's seniority was stripped from him by the Democratic Party and not the House because seniority rights are political matters under the control of each party. It is interesting to note that the seniority of another Negro, Congressman William Dawson (D.-Ill,), and chairman of the highly important Government Operations Committee, has never been questioned. Is this racial discrimination as suggested by Mr. Powell?

To imply that race was the basis of the different treatment of Powell and Dodd is simply not the truth. It is as illogical as it would be to say that Powell was barred from the House because he was a minister while Dodd was a lawyer.

I firmly believe that a Negro in the same instances would have received the same punishment from the Senate as was meted out to Senator Dodd, and an errant white Representative who conducted himself as Powell did would have fared just as badly. Race has nothing to do with the severity of either man's punishment. It was simply a case of two different bodies applying their own procedures to all their members--regardless of race.

1 YEAR AGO

As a result of the week-long drive during which time 17 new members were obtained by the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, the C. of C. total membership now exceeds 300 for the first time in history, Jim Duffield, Manager, reported this week.

By official proclamation Monday night, the City of Campbell joined 20,000 towns and cities in the nation that will participate in the "Bells on Independence Day" program next Monday, July 4. The proclamation urges the citizens of Campbell to ring bells for four minutes starting at 11 a.m. as a step in the revival of a lost tradition of this nation's heritage which had its beginning on July 4, 1776, when the Declaration of Independence was signed.

An electronic engineer, Edward L. Pack, will take his place for the first time on the Planning Commission at the meeting next Tuesday at the City Hall. Pack has been appointed by the City Council to the commission to fill the vacancy created by Dr. E. Thomas Perry, West Valley College instructor.

5 YEARS AGO

The council decided to study the idea of discontinuing the sale of fireworks within the City limits. The study will be made just after the Fourth of July in order that the merchants will be notified in plenty of time for the following year, should an ordinance be adopted.

A vice-principal and two principals have been appointed to the Moreland School District, for the new 1962-63 school year. Richard D. Reinecks will serve as vice-principal, Samuel Curtis Rogers Junior High School; Byron T. Cross, elementary principal, and O. John Taylor, elementary principal.

The O'Neill and Ellis Lumber Company, 640 E. Hamilton Ave., lost a layout shed and prefabricating equipment when they were completely destroyed by flames in a fire on June 19, with damage estimated at $18,000.

15 YEARS AGO

A City Council Monday night discussed ways and means of spending $28,306.78, Campbell's apportionment of State Motor Vehicle "in lieu" tax funds received last Friday. Part of the money, which may be used only for State-defined purposes, will be tabbed for payment of debts incurred since incorporation.

Richard Anthony Pimental of Campbell was among the 1176 seniors and graduate students receiving degrees at Oregon State College's 83rd annual commencement exercises June 9. He completed work in the graduate school for a doctor of philosophy degree in zoology.

Featured speaker of the regular meeting of Orchard Grange, Tuesday, was Miss Mary Winchell, author of "Home by the Bering Sea", who spoke on school teaching in the Aleutian Islands, Alaska, where she has been connected with Methodist missionary work for the past twelve years.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. - I was denied disability benefits from social security because my disability was considered to be temporary. I am still unable to work. Am I allowed to reapply?

A. - Yes. You can file a new application or ask that your case be reexamined. Previously you could get benefits only if you had a physical or mental impairment that was expected to last a long or indefinite time. Now you may become eligible if your disability is expected to keep you from doing substantial work for 12 or more months.

Q. - I am 67 and have had a severe heart attack and the doctor says I will never be able to work again. Can I file for social security disability benefits?

A. - No. Disability benefits are for severely disabled workers who have not yet reached age 65. Since you are over 65, however, you can apply for retirement benefits.

Q. - Do social security disability payments begin the month a person becomes severely disabled?

A. - No. There is a waiting period of six full calendar months before benefit payments may start. We suggest, though, that you get in touch with the Social Security Office to discuss filing for disability as soon as the doctor can tell you that the disability is so severe that you cannot work for 12 months or more.

Funeral today for victim of freak accident

A Campbell boy, Orville Eugene Humes, was killed early last Sunday morning when a 150-foot redwood tree fell without warning across the tent in which he and a friend were sleeping at Big Basin.

The huge tree fell for no apparent reason on the crowded campground. A San Jose youth, in the tent with Eugene, Timothy Teausant, escaped with only scratches. A car near the boys tent, belonging to Dr. Daniel Hayes of Livermore, was demolished. Dr. Hayes and his family escaped injury.

Humes was a junior at Camden High School and a native of Vallejo. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville U. Humes, 680 Eldon Dr., Campbell; four brothers and sisters, Jay Dee Humes, 14; Ernest Humes, 12; Joanna Humes, 8, Milissa Humes, 6, and his grandparents, Mrs. Golda Humes of San Jose and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Males of Vallejo.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. this morning (Wednesday) in Campbell Memorial Chapel. Burial will be in Santa Clara City Cemetery.

Fair searches for amateur musical talent

Do you sing, dance, have a musical group? If you do the Santa Clara County Fair would like to hear from you.

Each year the Fair holds contests for amateur talent and combos where County residents compete for trophys and merchandise certificates. The amateur talent contest is split into two divisions, Junior -under 16 years of age and older.

The Fair is now conducting a search to find those interested in participating in these contests and in other special events. If you are interested send a card or letter to the Public Relations Dept. Santa Clara County Fair, 344 Tully Road, San Jose, 95112 stating your name, address, age, phone number, and your talent.

Sidewalk art show slated

The Campbell Artists' Guild will present a sidewalk art show at the Kirkwood Plaza Shopping Center, located at Campbell Ave. and San Tomas Aquino Road, on July 20, 21 and 22. The Kirkwood Plaza Merchants Association is sponsoring the Campbell Artists' Guild summer art festival.

The show will include a variety of work in various media, such as oil paintings, water color, collages and encaustics. There will be art-in-action, with demonstrations given by the following: Virginia Ward and Claire Bittle, portraits in pastels and charcoal; Bertha McKay and Regina Greenleaf, encaustics; Mary Mergi, collage; Cathy De Mattei, oils; and Gilda Kabbani, Japanese brush painting.

A free drawing will be held for an oil painting, donated by Carley Owen, the club's president.

Local churches have exchange of ministers

The Congregational Church of Campbell and the Immanuel Presbyterian Church will exchange ministers next Sunday, July 9, during the morning services. In an effort to get acquainted with neighboring ministers, the plan was devised to "exchange pulpits."

Rev. Clifford Alsen, minister of the Immanuel United Presbyterian Church, will conduct the worship service at the Congregational Church of Campbell next Sunday at 10 a.m. Rev. Anthony Wayne Myers, of the Congregational Church will preach at the 9:30 a.m. service at the Presbyterian Church.

There will be a coffee hour following services to "talk back" to the ministers. The preaching exchange is part of the summer worship schedule worked out at a recent meeting of the Board of Deacons.

Strawberry pie is a favorite

Help! It's summertime again and appetites are lagging. Housewives don't want to heat up the kitchen anymore than is necessary. Do any of our readers have any quick and easy recipes for nutritious meals they would be willing to share? We would be happy to print any that are sent to the Food Editor, Campbell Press, PO Box 158, Campbell, Calif. 95008.

LUSCIOUS STRAWBERRY PIE

Strawberries are here at last, and one of our favorites is strawberry pie. If you REALLY want to cut down on time and effort, you can buy frozen pastry shells in your grocer's frozen food department. All you need to do is bake them for 8 to 10 minutes in a hot oven. Otherwise, make your own crusts.

Three baskets of strawberries usually fill two nine inch pie shells adequately. Hull and wash berries, sprinkle with sugar and place in refrigerator. Next cook one package of vanilla pudding and pie filling. Follow directions on package. Pour half of pudding into each cooled pie shell.

Crush 1 cup of berries. Add 1/2 cup water. Cook for two minutes. Add 1/2 cup sugar and 3 teaspoons corn starch. Stir and cook gently until thick and clear.

Now place strawberries in pie shells. Pour berry glaze over both pies. Place in refrigerator to cool. When ready to serve spread sweetened whipped cream over top. Ummmmmmm!

College plans series of workshops

With one series of workshops just completed, the second series in School Lunch Operation and Management is scheduled to begin July 10 through July 21 at West Valley College, according to Nero Pruitt, dean of extended day and summer sessions.

The classes have proved immensely popular, Pruitt said, but some vacancies still exist in the three offerings, Institutional Foods 50, covering sanitation and safety, Institutional Foods 51, work simplification, and Institutional Foods 57, quantity food preparation.

Most of those who attended the first session were employed in Santa Clara County, Pruitt said, pointing out that the West Valley College, by agreement with the other junior colleges in the area, is the only one offering this program this summer.

Almost 200 women were enrolled, and instructors included three full-time home economics teachers at both West Valley and Foothill colleges, one of them being the regional supervisor in this area for the California State School Lunch Program of the State Department of Education, and another the supervisor for food services for Campbell Union Elementary School District.

Vacancies exist in Institutional Foods 50 and 51 at present, and interested students should contact the college Admissions Office.

Weekly story hour at Library

Hey, all you wild Indians! Want to reinforce your knowledge of the red man? Campbell Library is sponsoring a weekly Story Hour especially for school age kids beginning July 14 at 3 p.m. and continuing each Friday through August 18.

Many of the stories will be about Indian lore, told by Mrs. Harriet Oberhaus. Alternate story tellers will be Mrs. Virginia Shelley (traditional folk tales) and Mrs. Joyce Vinson (fairy tales and fantasies).

No signup is necessary--just come. And for your little brothers and sisters, the Library will hold its regular Wednesday morning story sessions at 10 a.m. from July 12 through August 16.

MOTHERS TO MEET

The women's auxiliary of the Campbell Little League will meet Monday, July 10 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Paul Judd, 1389 Maria Way.

Mothers of all boys playing in the league are invited to attend.

DAKOTA CLUB

San Jose Dakota Club will hold their annual picnic in Willow Street Park, San Jose, on Sunday, July 9, from 1 to 5 p.m. Bring food for a pot-luck dinner and your own beverage. Natives of North and South Dakota are welcome. Please call Mrs. F. B. Cory, AX 6-7348 for more information.

Clothing course to be viewed on Channel 4

A short course on clothing selection will be seen during July over television channel 4, KRON, San Francisco.

The course, "Dressing by Design", will be offered in a series of five half-hour programs, each Sunday in July at 11:30 a.m. said Mrs. Frances R. Quinn, Agricultural Extension clothing specialist at Berkeley.

TV viewers will learn about visual expression of individuality through clothing design, texture, and color and about the economics of a planned wardrobe, Mrs. Quinn said.

Registration is free. Those signing up for the course will be mailed printed materials that can be used in connection with the TV presentation. Viewers may register by sending a post card to the television station, KRON, channel 4, San Francisco. State that you want to be enrolled for the "Dressing by Design" course.

TOUR FOR WINNERS--Mrs. Gertrude Gentile, director of nursing services at Community Hospital of Los Gatos-Saratoga, shows operation of autoclave, hospital's sterilizing unit, to A. R. Marcum, chairman of the board of directors, and two of the three 1967 winners of the hospital's $500 nursing education scholarships on a deluxe tour, left, Gale Kirby, Westmont High School, and Lois Pauline Olson, Saratoga High School.

State classes set new record

A record 9,611 students have enrolled for the first six-week summer session and inters essions workshops at San Jose State College according to an announcement by Dr. Lec P. Kibby, dean of summer sessions and educational services.

The total compares with 9,361 students for for the same period last year. Enrollment in the four-week summer session, Aug. 7 through Sept. 1, is expected to push this year's summer sessions total beyond last summer's double session total of 12,150, Dr. Kibby said.

The 9,611 first session total will be boosted still higher next week by those enrolling in an SJSC workshop in Oceanography at Moss Landing Marine Laboratories.

Some 145 students also are enrolled in the SJSC branch summer session at Hartnell College, Salinas.

A total of 1,768 students have enrolled for summer sesssios workshops, compared to 1,711 last year.

Highway Slaughter

NEW YORK—Traffic accidents in the United States killed 49,000 persons and injured 3,982,000 in 1965, the Insurance Information Institute reports.

College explains sign-up rules

Registration priority can be obtained by Extended Day (evening) students at West Valley College during the next school year by following pre-registration procedures outlined by Nero Pruitt, Dean of Extended Day and Summer Sessions at the college.

Such pre-registration during July will expedite actual registration for classes, which begins Aug. 21 and continues through Aug. 31, Pruitt said.

Students wishing to take advantage of the pre-registration program should report to the Student Personnel Center during July on Monday, Tuesday, or Thursday evening, from 6:00 to 9:00 P.M., to fill out a fact sheet necessary for such pre-registration. Pruitt said it shouldn't take more than 30 minutes to complete the necessary forms.

He emphasized that students with registration priority will have a greater variety of class offerings from which to choose.

Students who reside in California junior college districts other than West Valley must present releases from their districts at the time of registration. Also, those students whose legal residence is in another State will need to be prepared to pay tuition at the rate of $11. per unit, Pruitt said.

resulted in 750 students taking advantage of it, and thus gaining priority for registration beginning Aug. 21.

Insuring Automobiles

NEW YORK—Americans, in order to protect themselves against financial loss brought on by automobile accidents, purchased insurance with premiums totaling about $8.3 billion in 1965, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

NEW ADMINISTRATOR--Leo G. Smith, of Saratoga, has been appointed administrator of Santa Clara Valley Medical Center by Norman B. Nelson, M.D., medical director.

Prior to receiving appointment to the $17,368 per year post, Smith has been assistant administrator since 1959. He takes the place of Frederick C. LeRocker, who resigned in May to become administrator of the Los Gatos-Saratoga Community Hospital.

Smith, 37, is a native of Oroville, Calif. and is a 1951 graduate of the University of Santa Clara. He also holds a master degree in public health from the University of California.

Birthday means drivers' license needs renewal

Have you checked the date on your drivers license lately?

Department of Motor Vehicles Director Verne Orr has pointed out that not only was July 4 the nation's birthday, it was also the birthday of many otherwise conscientious California drivers who will probably miss their license renewal deadlines.

"Approximately 800,000 California motorists, he said, "hold licenses which will be expiring during the next six months, and of these about 100,000 will neglect to renew on time. Licenses always expire on the driver's birthday at three or four year intervals.

"If you renew late," he added, "you will have to pass not only a written test but a behind-the-wheel test as well. You also risk getting a ticket for driving without a valid license."

Orr stressed that the law permits renewal of a drivers license any time during the six months before it expires.

He urged motorists to take advantage of this provision by renewing their driving privileges before the birthday expiration date stamped on their licenses.

AN ORDINANCE OF CITY OF CAMPBELL ADDING SECTION 6301.1 TO CHAPTER I, ARTICLE VI OF THE CAMPBELL MUNICIPAL CODE, ENTITLED BUSINESSESS PROFESSIONS, AND TRADES, REGULATING POOL TABLES IN BARS AND TAVERNS

The City Council of City of Campbell does ordain as follows:

SECTION ONE: That Section 6301.1 be added to Chapter I, Article VI of the Campbell Municipal Code entitled Businesses, Professions and Trades, and to read as follows:

Section 6301.1 Same. Permit Regulation.

Until a permit has first been attained therefor from the City Council upon written application approved by Chief of Police and Chief of the Fire Department, no pool table or billiard table, coin operated or otherwise, shall be placed in any tavern or bar as such taverns or bars are commonly known, and no permit shall be issued for more than one such pool or billiard table in any one bar or tavern.

(a) That all bars or taverns now having more than one such pool or billiard table, whether or not a permit was heretofore issued, shall cause the excess tables or devices removed on or before January 1, 1968.

(b) The annual license fee for such pool table or billiard table shall be $50.00 per annum, notwithstanding any other fee provided for in this chapter.

(c) The said pool or billiard table shall be provided with suitable covers when not in use.

(d) The permitting of gaming in bars and taverns possessing such pool or billiard table will subject the owners of the bar, their servants, agents and employees to prosecution for a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be subject to such fine and imprisonment as provided in this Municipal Code.

PREVAILING WAGE RATES

Pursuant to the provisions of the Labor Code, the Board of Supervisors has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages and employer payments for health and welfare, vacation, pension and similar purposes in the County in which the work is to be done to be as hereinafter set forth and more completely set forth in the specification documents sometimes referred to as Exhibit A.

Copies of all collective bargaining agreements relating to the work to be performed as set forth in the aforementioned Labor Code containing information relating to wages, fringe benefits, subsistence, and travel pay are on file and are available for inspection in the offices of the Division of Labor Statistics and Research of the Department of Industrial Relations.

Employer payments other than those hereinafter itemized, as defined in Section 1773.1 of the Labor Code, are to be paid in accordance with the terms of the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the type or classification of the workmen or mechanics employed on the project.

The following shall govern as to overtime and Sunday or Holiday work: overtime work--not less than one and one-half (1 1/2) times the basic hourly rate plus applicable employer payments; Sunday and Holiday work--not less than one and one-half (1 1/2) times the basic hourly rate plus applicable employer payments. The holidays upon which such rates shall be paid shall be all holidays recognized in the collective bargaining agreement applicable to the particular craft, classification or type of workmen employed on the project.

Local teacher attends meet

Some 400 high school and junior college vocational agriculture teachers from throughout California attended the 48th annual Summer Conference of the California Agriculture Teachers Association.

A.R. Davis, agriculture teacher from Campbell High School, was among those from Santa Clara County who attended.

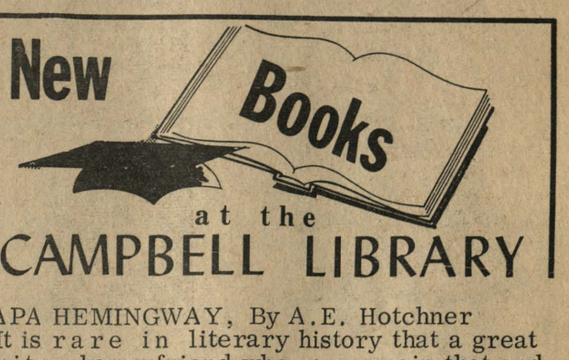
Jointly sponsored by Cal Poly, CATA, and the State Bureau of Agriculture Education, the week long conclave concluded on Friday June 30, with election of officers. Keynote speaker for the affair was Alan Grant, president of the California Farm Bureau Federation.

D.W.V. stages "death trap" ice box drive

Disabled War Veterans Salvage Shops and Crafts, Inc., 1082 Alviso St., is seeking abandoned ice-boxes in its fifth annual "Death Trap Drive," according to DWV manager Irving R. Cabral.

The drive will continue through July. Persons who know of unused refrigerators, freezers and ice-boxes are asked to call DWV at 296-2553 for free pick up of the appliances by DWV trucks.

A year ago, some 100 ice-boxes were collected. Since DWV first started its drive against the hazardous boxes in the interest of child-safety five years ago, there have been no Santa Clara County deaths of children trapped in the appliances.



PAPA HEMINGWAY, By A.E. Hotchner

It is rare in literary history that a great writer has a friend who can remain that and yet be an observer - a friend who can portray vividly, with warmth and objectivity, the man's life, his greatness, his death. For the last thirteen years of Ernest Hemingway's life A. E. Hotchner was such a friend. Papa Hemingway, illustrated with 16 pages of photographs, is an important and unusually vivid memoir of one of the great writers of our time.

THE PYRAMID CLIMBERS, by Vance Packard

Mr. Packard describes The Pyramid Climbers as a "non-reverent look at the nation's most exploited class of steady jobholders - the hustling, well-packaged executives striving to move up the slippery slopes of enterprise." It is all that, and a good deal more - as Packard's tremendous audience has come to expect.

ORBIT OF CHINA, by Harrison E. Salisbury

In a distinguished career as one of America's leading journalists, Harrison E. Salisbury has never undertaken a more challenging task than that which he relates in this book. Assigned by the New York Times to cover the entire periphery of China, he traveled more than 25,000 miles along China's frontiers from the jungles of Southeast Asia to the bristling Siberian-Chinese border. At the heart of his narrative are the epic questions of the day: war or peace between China and America, the struggle of India and China for Asian leadership, the dangerous conflict of the Soviet Union and China.

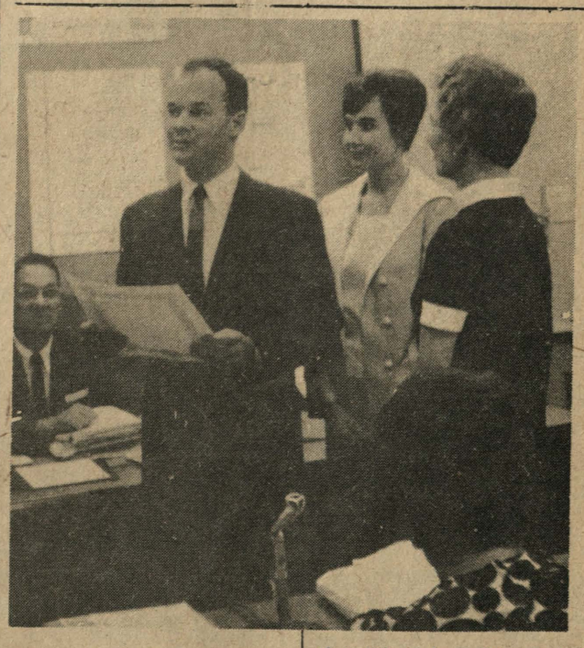
ONE OF OUR H-BOMBS IS MISSING, by Flora Lewis

On January 17, 1966, two U.S. military planes collided six miles above Polomares, Spain. They exploded, showering the earth and sea with 800,000 tons of debris. Miraculously, not a single person on the ground was seriously hurt. But somewhere amidst the wreckage were four H-Bombs; Palomares was suddenly, horribly, part of the 20th century. This is the subject of Flora Lewis's exhaustive report.



THANKS COMMISSION--Mitchell Cushman, recipient of the first James Tomlinson mem Memorial Scholarship in planning, established in memory of the late Jim Tomlinson who served for 14 years on the Planning Commission, thanks members of the commission for the award on Monday night. In the center is his wife and on the right, is Mrs. Tomlinson, widow of the late commissioner.

What do you know about your flag ?

Through the efforts of the Campbell Jaycees, a number of business places in Campbell had flags flying on the Fourth of July for the first time.

The Jaycees have contracted with the business firms to place the flags in the sidewalk on holidays. The Jaycees will also store them and take them down.

It is hoped by the Jaycees that their project will re-emphasize the importance of Old Glory to us all.

Apropos of this local project a news release from the World Book Encyclopedia cited the following facts about the flag: The Star and Stripes first flew. . .

. . . IN A LAND BATTLE on August 16, 1777, when troops under John Start fought in the Battle of Bennington in southwestern Vermont.

. . . ON A U.S. NAVY SHIP on November 1, 1777, when John Paul Jones left Portsmouth, N.H., in the "Ranger."

. . . IN A FOREIGN PORT on December 1, 1777, when Jones sailed into Nantes, France, on the "Ranger," after capturing two British ships.

. . . OVER FOREIGN LAND on January 28, 1778, when John Rathbone of the sloop "Providence" captured Fort Nassau in the Bahamas.

. . . IN THE PACIFIC OCEAN in 1784 when John Green and the "Empress of China" sailed to Macao, near Hong Kong.

. . . AROUND THE WORLD from September 30, 1787, to August 10, 1790, on the 212-ton ship "Columbia" of Boston.

. . . OVER A FORT IN THE EASTERN HEMISPHERE on April 27, 1805, when U.S. Marines captured Derna, Tripoli.

. . . OVER A SCHOOLHOUSE in May, 1812, at a log school at Catamount Hill, Colrain, Mass.

. . . IN A NAVAL BATTLE IN THE PACIFIC on March 25, 1813, when the frigate "Essex," commanded by David Porter, captured the Peruvian cruiser "Nereyda."

. . . IN ANTARCTICA in 1840 on the pilot boat "Flying Fish" of the Charles Wilkes expedition.

. . . IN A FLAG DAY CELEBRATION in 1861 throughout Connecticut. An editoral in the Hartford Courant suggested the state-wide observance.

. . . AT THE NORTH POLE on April 6, 1909, when Robert E. Peary of the U.S. Navy planted it there.

PEACHES

California is the leading peach-producing state.

Answers To July 4th Quiz

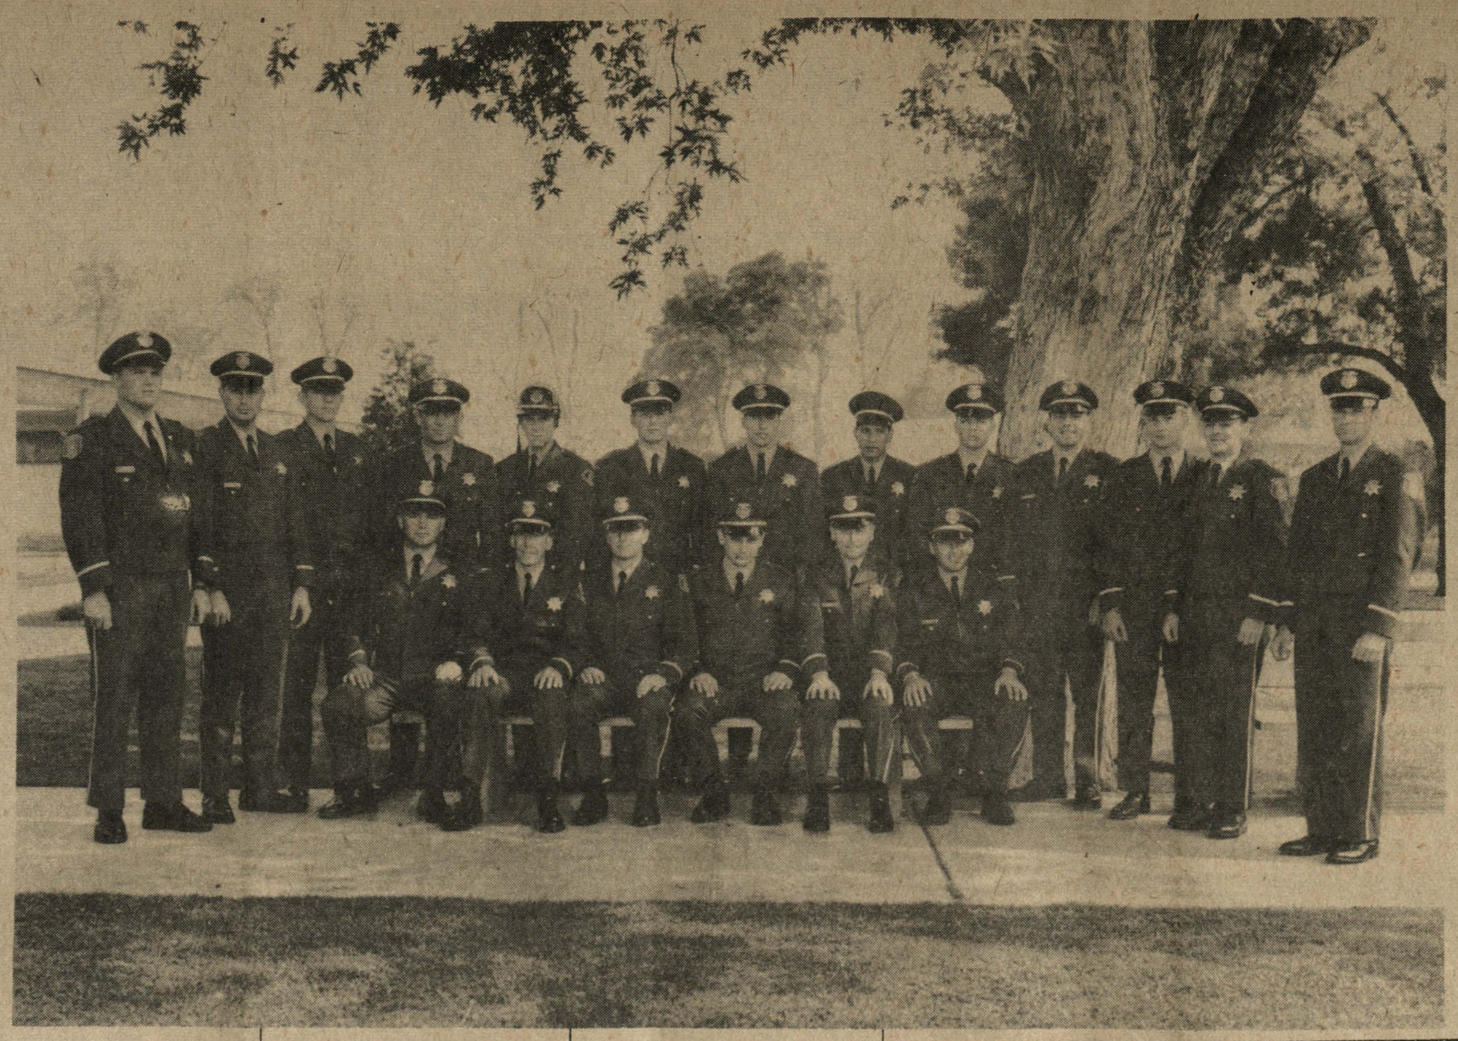
1. False. The public did not learn the actual words of the Declaration until July 8, 1776--four days after it had been signed--and therefore had to wait until July 8 to celebrate. Then, the Declaration was read to the public, the Liberty Bell rang out the news, bands played, and a public celebration took place.
2. True. Adams said this of Independence Day: "It ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance, by solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires, and illuminations, from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward for evermore."
3. False. Adams and Jefferson signed the Declaration, but Washington did not.
4. True. And for that reason it is the birthday of the United States of America.
5. False. The Declaration is dated July 4, 1776, and is described as "unanimous." But the word "unanimous" could not be properly used until July 19, when the New York delegation to Congress, which had not voted on July 4, reported that it favored the Declaration.
6. True. Henry Richard Lee moved on June 7, 1776, that "These United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States." The Continental Congress approved Lee's resolution on July 2, 1776.
7. True. The final draft of the Declaration of Independence was prepared by a committee including Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, John Adams, Robert Livingston, and Roger Sherman, but it is believed to be largely Jefferson's work.
8. True. The English had used many of the same ideas to justify their revolution of 1688, when they ousted King James II.
9. False. The Declaration of Independence was removed to Leesburg, Virginia, as British troops approached Washington.
10. False. The Declaration of Independence was held in the Library of Congress from 1912 to 1952, but now is in the National Archives Building.

(Questions and answers based on information in World Book Encyclopedia.)



NEW GRADUATES--Pictured are the 19 officers comprising the second graduating class of the Santa Clara County Sheriff's Department basic peace officers standards and training school. The graduation took place last Friday in San Jose. Eighteen of the new officers are in the sheriff's department while one, Roger Higby, is a member of the Campbell Police Department.

Three of the 18 deputy sheriffs, Gerald Casby, Albert Day, and James Teichner, are Campbell residents. The new officers assumed regular duties on July 1 having completed 240 hours of instruction in human and community relations.

Safe Boating Week, July 2-8, encourages safety

Pointing to the grim statistics of 103 persons killed and 232 others injured in 591 boating accidents in California last year, Governor Ronald Reagan has proclaimed July 2 through 8 as Safe Boating Week and urged the state's million boaters to quit turning exhilarating fun into tragedy.

The governor's proclamation was supported by a state Senate and Assembly concurrent resolution encouraging all California boaters to learn boating safety practices and avoid accidents by replacing carelessness with thoughtfulness and boating courtesy.

The governor stated that California's pleasure boat fleet has passed the 400,000 mark and is still growing.

The governor pointed out that free instruction in boating safety is provided by such organizations as the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary and U.S. Power Squadrons.

He added that printed information on boating regulations and boating safety equipment and practices is available from the State Department of Harbors and Watercraft, 1416 Ninth Street, Sacramento, Calif. 95814.
